The Christmas tree given to the children of Holbrook was the greatest success since the town of Holbrook was put on the map. Much praise is due the Christmas Tree Committee in general and to Mrs. James Scorse, Mrs. Benson, Miss Benson, Andy Boyer, L. D. Divelbess, Mrs. R. C. Smith and Mr. Hess in particular. The children were delighted especially as Santa Claus arrived promptly on time and took each one by the hand. The school children doing remarkably well. The tree was a beauty and tastily dressed. Every one in the crowded hall passed an enjoyable evening.

News comes from Nevada that Billy Stiles is dead; shot down like a dog for some wrong, either real or fancied. While living in Arizona, Stiles betrayed his friends, robbed right and left, stole and committed murder, and made for himself a reputation that any outlaw might well be proud. He was the Ismal of the South-west. His hand was against every man and every man's hand against him. As he lived he died, with none to mourn his loss and no one to envy him his fame; the day of the outlaw is passed, and forever.

The Woodruff home talent will give a play entitled "Uncle Josh" Wednesday evening. This play has been given at several places in the county and has been well received. All who attend this play are assured of a good time. After "Uncle Josh" will come a farce called "The Persecuted Dutchman" that will make you laugh and grow fat.

Dr. Brown comes well recommended and is a graduate of one of the best medical colleges in the United States. We welcome him to Holbrook and predict for him a prosperous and successful future.

Mrs. Harry Mann and baby daughter have been quite sick for a few days.

Mr. Freeman Hathorn, together with Mrs. Hathorn and the two children, came in from Keams Canyon Saturday evening for to spend the winter in Holbrook. Mr. Hathorn has disposed of his trading store and will look around a little for another location.

Mr. H. H. Scorse and Will Evans left Sunday with a wagon-load of supplies for the sheep camps in the mountains. They took guns and plenty of ammunition with them and expect to bring home a bear or two and possibly a mountain lion.

The weather lately has been the kind that only Arizona can produce. Clear warm days, and the nights a little frosty. Stockmen from all parts of the county report range conditions of the finest and all expect a prosperous year for 1909.

Sheriff Woods made a business trip to Winslow Monday.

The dance given by the Holbrook people Christmas night was thoroughly enjoyed by a large crowd. All express themselves as having had a good time.
